One of the most important human needs is the need for food to continue living, the availability and provision of which has always changed with the changes and developments in his life. The speed of progress and changes every day and the need for more work, and on the other hand, the increase in the population of the earth, made humans face new challenges in meeting this vital need, which led to a new type of food preparation and production for Consumption became easier, faster and longer lasting.

Today, canned foods, especially types of meat that provide the body's need for protein, have become one of the most important items in the human food basket. Because the food is ready, accessible, with a long shelf life and does not require special storage conditions.

Mana Salamat Pasargad company has been active in the field of preparation and production of canned meat and protein products such as fish, chicken and turkey since 1370, and its products are prepared and marketed from the freshest raw materials from poultry and fisheries.

Importance and nutritional value of poultry meat

As we know, the nutritional value of white meat is far higher than that of red meat, and on the other hand, it is also healthier. White meat has relatively lower cholesterol than red meat and can be used for people who have cardiovascular diseases or suffer from kidney problems.

Poultry meat, with its pleasant taste, ease of cooking, and delicious taste, and on the one hand, because more people are aware of the health of white meat and its lower risks compared to red meat, it is used more today than in the past. If it is provided enough, it can replace other animal protein sources. High growth rate in poultry, suitable conversion factor, nutritional value of poultry meat, proportion of amino acids in it, low cholesterol, fewer diseases that can be transmitted from this meat to humans compared to red meat, deliciousness, etc. that more and more poultry meat is included in the household food basket.

The meaning of poultry meat is a set of muscle and skeletal tissues of the chicken carcass, which in its condition and shape, along with fat, connective, cartilage, bone tissues, as well as bone, lymph nodes, veins and foundations related to it is.

Advantages of Using Poultry Meat Instead of Red Meat

- The high protein percentage of poultry meat compared to other meats
- Low loss of meat quality after slaughter
- Low bone loss
- Health and hygiene of chicken and turkey meat
- High digestibility
- High speed of poultry growth
- Ease of nutrition
- Save space and land
- Quick return of investment
- Production capability in different geographical conditions
- Less investment and finally cheaper price of poultry meat

Especially the health inspection of white meat of poultry is one of the most important issues. Because with the increase in the consumption of white meat, especially poultry meat in people's diet, the healthiness of this meat is also taken into consideration. Today, poultry meat is widely used as a food source containing protein in human nutrition in the world.
